PhoneWatch Opens First Office in Kilkenny

20 July 2014
 Creates 15 New Jobs with Expansion into South East Region

PhoneWatch, Ireland's most popular home protection company has opened its first office in the South East region at John's Quay, Kilkenny. The new office will see the creation of up to 15 jobs by the company in Kilkenny.

Earlier this year PhoneWatch announced that it was expanding its operations in Ireland and the Kilkenny office is the first to be opened outside Dublin as part of this nationwide expansion programme.

Jonathan Bunce, Sales Director, PhoneWatch said that the company is delighted to be opening an office in Kilkenny. "PhoneWatch is the most popular residential monitored security company with over 100,000 customers in Ireland. We've been a household name for over 23 years and we are delighted to be establishing a regional office in Kilkenny. Kilkenny is an excellent location for us and will be a hub for our business in the region."

PhoneWatch has a strong and loyal customer base and delivers peace of mind to homeowners throughout the country. Jonathan says of the PhoneWatch service "Peace of mind is priceless and that is what we deliver to our customers' every day. Protecting your home against intruders is our priority and our customers know we are watching out for them. Our 24/7 service means that our highly skilled staff are on hand to protect and support our customers 365 days a year. The instant visual verification and always on smoke detection coupled with system lifetime warranty and unlimited service visits means that our customers security needs are always met. No other company provides such a comprehensive protection service" .

 Ashling Delaney, from Galmoy, Co. Kilkenny, has been appointed Sales Manager for the Kilkenny office "This is a very exciting opportunity for me personally and I'm thrilled to be leading the growth of the PhoneWatch business in Kilkenny. I expect to create up to 15 new jobs, mostly in the sales field and will serve households all over Kilkenny and surrounding areas. We will make it easy for new customers to become part of PhoneWatch with our sales teams calling to their homes to discuss their needs." she said. Recruitment for positions is already underway.

Part of Sector Alarm Corporation, the second largest home security company in Europe, PhoneWatch employs over 200 people in Ireland and plans to grow to add another 200 jobs as it opens new sales offices across Ireland. For details of the new jobs available at PhoneWatch in Kilkenny visit: http://www.phonewatch.ie/careers-at-phonewatch